They are compatible with various cable tray sizes, including 50mm, 75mm, 100mm, 150mm, and 300mm widths.

F and Rexel supply a wide range of steel cable trays and accessories, including brackets, risers, bends, and tees, which may include color-coated or pre-galvanised fixing plates. Unitrunk offers fish plates in ZM finish, which can be used for medium to heavy-duty cable tray connections.

Pricing Considerations

Material and Finish: Pre-galvanised steel is generally less expensive than color-coated steel, while ZM or powder-coated finishes may increase cost. Size and Thickness: Larger or thicker plates designed for heavy-duty trays cost more. Quantity: Bulk orders often reduce the per-unit price.

Supplier and Delivery: Prices vary between suppliers and may include shipping or handling fees. For exact pricing, it is recommended to check the supplier's online catalog or request a quote directly from RS Components, Legrand, CEF, or Rexel, as prices fluctuate based on stock, finish, and order volume.
