Kenya Hollow Core Fiber OS2

Overview

The cable is composed of a single tube housing 12 fibers, showcasing a streamlined and efficient design for fiber optic connectivity. Armored fiber optic cables are built for strength and reliability, making them the preferred choice for outdoor, underground, and industrial fiber installations in Kenya and East Africa. At Instant Device, we supply a complete range of armored fiber solutions, including ADSS (All-Dielectric. Hollow-core optical fibers (HCFs) have unique properties like low latency, negligible optical nonlinearity, wide low-loss spectrum, up to 2100 nm, the ability to carry high power, and potentially lower loss then solid-core single-mode fibers (SMFs). D compliant low water peak grade and offers OS2 performance and OS1 backwards compatibility. This sheath material is known for its fire.
