Aluminum trays are generally more expensive than galvanized steel but offer superior corrosion resistance and lighter weight. Quotation Process: Most suppliers provide custom quotes based on project requirements.

It is recommended to contact suppliers directly to obtain accurate pricing and lead times. Bulk Orders: Large-scale projects may qualify for discounts or negotiated pricing, especially when purchasing complete systems including trays, bends, and supports.

Recommendations

Request Detailed Quotes: Provide specifications such as tray width, height, length, and load requirements to suppliers for precise pricing. Compare Suppliers: Evaluate multiple suppliers in UAE and Saudi Arabia to ensure competitive pricing and availability. Check Certifications: Ensure suppliers comply with ISO 9001 or equivalent quality standards for industrial installations.
